Willy: "The year really slipped by quickly, didn't it, Betty?"

Betty: "Yes, it really did. Remember when . . ."

SEPTEMBER

Dark tans and peeling skin were the only memoirs of a summer of fun as students returned to classes and books in September.

OCTOBER

King Football reigned supreme during the month of witches and goblins, and the newly organized Pep Club staged many rallies to cheer the Tarzans on to victory.

NOVEMBER

We played host to the public during American Education week. Class room exhibits, demonstrations, and a very special assembly gave our guests a good impression of Stockton High.

DECEMBER

Santa Claus made his annual appearance at Stockton High with the sound of caroling in the halls and Christmas decorations at every turn.

JANUARY

Back to work after the holidays, with every student making a New Year's resolution to pull up that slipping grade average.

FEBRUARY

A new innovation hit Stockton High when the GAA challenged the women's faculty to defend its honor on the basketball court. A lot of fun and a little basketball helped the GAA to emerge victorious, despite the efforts of "Molly" and "Dolly".

MARCH

In spring a tenth grader's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of graduation. Here we visit the vast, vast campus of Stockton College to get our bearings and chart a course for next year's work.

APRIL

The month of hayfever and blossoms saw the Blue and White stage the April Fools' Frolic to close Blue and White sales. Here some avid boppers display the skill that helped them win the bop contest.

MAY

While the rest of the school was engaged in academic pursuits, tenth graders found time to relax and slack off a bit as graduation loomed on the horizon.

JAMES C. CAVE

For thirty-seven years James Cave has served Stockton High School — first as a Physical Education Instructor and for the past twenty-six years as Dean of Boys. During his many years at Stockton High, Mr. Cave has become an integral part of the academic and social life of the school. While he was coach of the Stockton High eleven, the team was nicknamed the Cave-men and from this came our school symbol, Tarzan.

To estimate how many students Mr. Cave has influenced and helped during his years as a teacher, dean, and friend is impossible.

So, on behalf of all students, past and present, who have known and loved him, we dedicate to James C. Cave, in his retirement year, the nineteen hundred fifty-five "Blue and White."

Chuck Gordet, head coach of the Tarzan eleven, times a track hopeful.

"School daze, school daze," sing Mr. Schiffman and Mr. TeSelle, popular chaperones at any Stockton High affair.

Mrs. Peterson explains a difficult math problem to a struggling student.

We all owe a vote of thanks to our efficient office staff — but where are Miss Robbins and Miss Sarris? - - - Cutting?

Mr. Bragdon, art advisor for the Blue and White, and Joyce Lowe, staff artist, put the finishing touches on the cover design.

Teachers at ease over a delicious meal in the faculty lunch room.

Mrs. Duckworth, school nurse, busily at work in her newly remodeled office.

Audio-Visual head, Mr. Gossett, looks plumb "tuckered" out after a hard day's work.

Row 2: Mr. Young, Principal; Mr. Cave, Vice-Principal and Dean of Boys; Mrs. Hembree, Vice-Principal and Dean of Girls.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Row 1: John Zuckerman, Mrs. Ennis C. Woodruff, President; Mrs. Henry M. Brandstad.

Row 2: Alex J. McRae, Richard Parsons.

FINGER-SNAPPING

Finger-snapping nearly drove teachers crazy, as students made like human firecrackers.

Fads for Grads

BERMUDA SOCKS

The fact that long stockings were once hated by our parents made little difference as frantic footgear could be seen all over the campus.

STOCKING CAPS

Although here modeled by Howard Bazarre, stocking caps were worn mostly by the feminine set.

CRAZY HAIRCUTS

From the back it was hard to tell the difference between a girl who just had a haircut and a boy who needed one, because crazy hair styles were again the most.

BOPPING

Bopping was big business, and you were a real square if you couldn't tickle the old toesies to "Shake, Rattle, and Roll."

Willy:
"Say, bop cat, do you dig all these crazy fads that were the rage this year?"

Betty:
"Ob, but exotically Edgar—they were simply dark green."

ASSEMBLIES

Russ Pezzi, Denis Willens, and John De-Marco in a typical election assembly skit.

Grandma reads Junior a bedtime story as part of the fantasy in the Christmas assembly.

Flora Flutterheart and the Desert Swan sing a romantic love duet as part of the Old Fashioned Movie presented by Dramatics Workshop.

Sgt. Pike combined safety education, magic, and tomfoolery to keep us in stitches while he left a real lesson behind.

Wesley Young, our principal, addresses the student body at one of our opening assemblies.

A serious note was struck by this speaker, as he told the story of his life as a reformed alcoholic, and urged students not to make the same mistakes he did.

One of the first assemblies presented by Dramatics Workshop showed the talent and cleverness of Gene McCabe and his crew.

The Great Sousa mystified his audience and taught his two selected "assistants" a few things about the black art.

Rod Swearengen, popular SHS band instructor, leads the band in a rousing march to dismiss an assembly.
